SUSTAINABILITY

- Instapak® foam expands on-demand and on-site freeing up valuable warehouse space and reducing the number of delivery trucks with associated costs and emissions
- A custom-shaped cushion is created within the carton, that absorbs bumps and bruises during the entire shipping process which highly reduces shipping damage and the consequent need to ship replacement products
- The foam provides the right amount of packaging material to protect the product which optimises transportation with smaller cartons
- Instapak® cushions can be reused as carton fillers or reshaped manually to fit the next product shipped
